Placing a loved one in a senior living community sometimes requires using funds from a variety of resources. Here are a few options to help cover the cost.

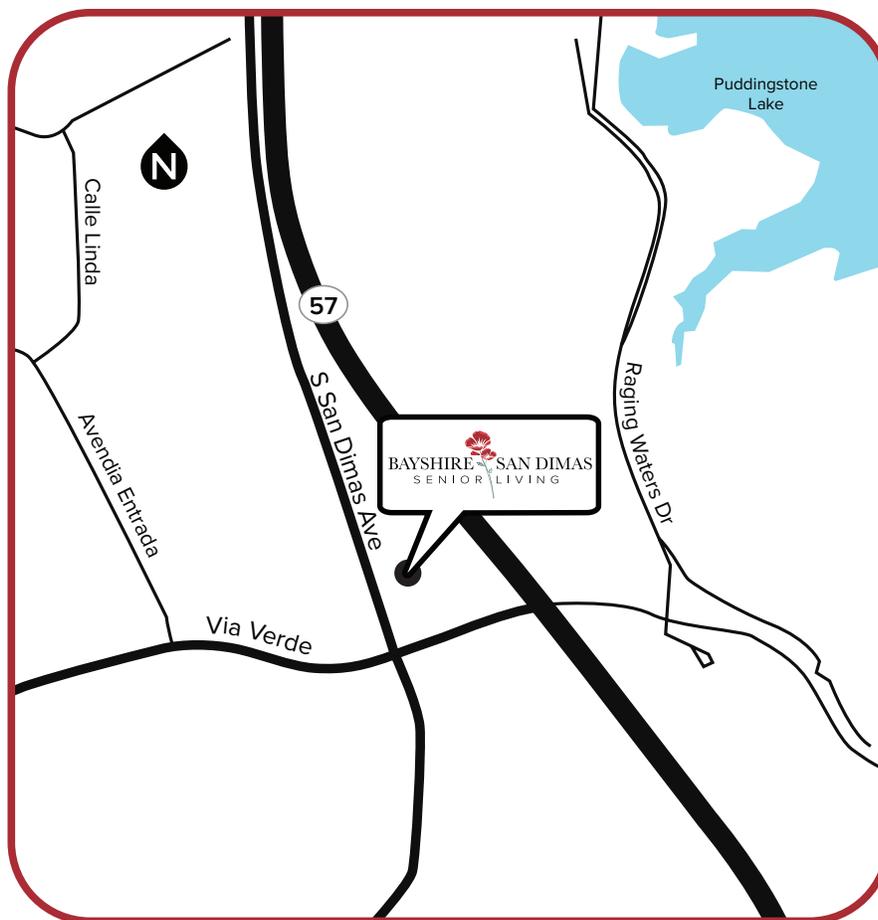

Long-Term Care Insurance

This covers care for individuals with chronic illnesses or disabilities that need skilled care for an extended period of time. If your loved one has a policy, it may significantly reduce the out-of-pocket expense needed to fund care. Benefits vary but may include nursing home and assisted living stays, as well as adult daycare services.

Veteran's Benefits

Veterans and their surviving spouses who qualify for a VA pension and require the “aid and attendance” of a caregiver may be eligible for additional benefits over-and above their monthly pension. These benefits can be used to help pay senior living costs. To qualify for a VA pension, individuals must have served at least 90 days as active-duty military, with at least 1 day during a wartime period. Individuals not eligible for a basic VA pension because of excessive income may qualify for “aid and attendance” benefits. 2024 benefit amounts are as follows:

2024 BENEFIT AMOUNTS
Married Veterans	$2727/mo.
Single Veterans	$2300/mo.
Surviving Spouse	$1478/mo.
Two Married Veterans	$3649/mo.
